GOVERNOR BECKHAM is making a noise like a gum shoe.

THE Czar of all the Russias is perfectly willing to have peace if only he has the making of the peace terms.

IF the Russian Douma wishes to get a square deal it should hold its sessions near the Hague Peace Parliament. These two representative farces should be close together.

THE Japs, by their smartness and enterprise, are paying the price for civilization, and are trying to borrow 5,000,000,000 francs in the French money market. It costs money to be a world-power.

HERE is a small boy's essay on woman: "Woman is what man likes to marry. Man is logical; woman is zoological. Both man and woman sprang from monkeys, but woman sprang the farthest."

COL. HORACE GREELEY RISING, for seven years Rural Route Inspector, who has personally driven over every one of the 670 routes in Kentucky, has started a newspaper in the interest of good roads called "Rising's Rural Review."

SENATOR FORAKER not only was the friend and chief spokesman for the Negro troopers who shot up Brownsville, but he now wants to be Judge and Jury, too. It is to be hoped that he will get all he wants of it before the incident closes.

DURING a recent hail storm in Georgia the hail stones were so large that they killed chickens and went clear through watermelons. This is a terrible blow to the Rufuses and the Ras-tuses of the Sunny South. With no water-melons and few circuses, all the darkey gets will be a lemon.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT generally knows his business, and again and again has his seemingly impulsive action been sustained by the facts and the evidence. He was condemned for his hasty action in the Brownsville case and in the Haywood and Moyer case at Boise City. Now the Committee investigating the Brownsville scrape has suspended its work until November 18th, and after the election. It is said that the report fully upholds and sustains the President for his dismissal from the Army of the murderous troopers, the vote of the Committee standing 9 to 4.

THE President's condemnation of MOYER and HAYWOOD has not only been justified, but such a state of anarchy, arson and murder has been unveiled and shown to exist among the federation of miners, without a parallel in the labor troubles.

ROOSEVELT simply stands for the truth, the law and order and decency, and those opposing him, of course, are aiding and abetting the criminals whom he seeks to expose and convict.

THERE can be only one side to such questions, but because of the President's startling initiative, the hit grafter and thief howls, while the President's enemies cry "imperialism," "man on horseback," etc.

IT is a lucky thing for American liberty that such a man as THEODORE ROOSEVELT occupies the White House at this progressive time and in this age of loot, graft and murder.

THE BRIDE'S CHECKBOOK

When Jones and his wife returned from their honeymoon and settled down to housekeeping, Jones deposited $500 to his wife's credit in the bank and presented her with a check-book. Mrs. Jones was delighted.

"Oh, isn't that lovely," she cried. "I think this is the dearest little check-book. It folds up so nicely and has such a pretty leather cover. And isn't this a dear little book with my name on it?"

Jones took the book and described carefully the making of a check.

"Suppose you go to Smith & Co. and buy $2 worth of groceries. You take your checkbook, write the date up here, Smith & Co. in here, down here you write the amount, 'Two dollars and no cents,' and over here you write it in figures, '2.00,' and then sign your name. That makes it just as good as money."

"I think that's just lovely," cooed Mrs. Jones.

The next day she started out early on a shopping tour. She paid for everything that day in checks except 20 cents worth of fruit, for which the Italian fruiterer positively refused to accept anything but cash, much to Mrs. Jones' astonishment. When the little woman reached home she was radiant.

"I think it's just grand to pay with checks," she told her husband.

One morning a few days later Jones received a telephone call at his office. It was his wife.

"Oh, John, I'm in such trouble. Come down at once. I'm here at my bank."

The receiver was hung up and Jones, half wild with alarm, grabbed his coat and rushed down the hall into the elevator and out of the building. When he reached the bank he found his wife sitting timidly in a corner of the ladies' department.

"What is the matter? Are you ill?" he asked anxiously, hurrying to her.

"No, John, I'm not ill; but I'm absolutely penniless. You see, I came down this morning with only a nickel in my purse. I took a car, and when the conductor came round I wrote him out a check for my fare. He refused to take it, and—Oh, John—he laughed at me. So I had to give him the nickel. And you see that left me without any money at all! But I came on, and when I got to the bank I stopped here because I sort of feel safe here. Oh, John, I felt so relieved when I heard your voice, I could have hugged you!"

Had the Meanness to Laugh at Me.

"But, my dear," he asked, "how can you be without money when you are right here at the bank?"

"Yes, I'm here," agreed Mrs. Jones, "and I have quite a lot of money in there, but how am I going to get it out?"

"But you could get money," said Jones.

"Yes, dear; that's the reason I called you up," she replied innocently.

"But why didn't you draw some out of the bank?"

"Would they let me do that?" she asked, with puzzled brow.

Jones quietly led her to a desk.

"Now, just make out a check, like you would to Smith & Co., only you put your own name in place of that of Smith & Co.," he said.

"But, John, you told me always to put the name of the person from whom I bought things in that blank," she pouted.

"The rule still applies," her husband reassured her. "You are buying $5 from yourself now."

A smile broke over the puzzled feminine face.

"And will they give me $5 just for this?" she asked wonderingly.

"Try it," he said.

When she came from the window with the money she was radiant.

"Oh, John, I think it's twice as much fun to have a checkbook now!" she said. And John grinned.

Marrying Under the Gallows. In olden days, if a man or woman would consent to marry under the gallows, a person condemned to death might thereby be saved from execution. This happened, according to an old English ballad, to a Chichester merchant who was thus saved by a loving maiden. In 1784 a criminal at New York escaped "in the same way. (And all readers of Victor Hugo's 'Notre Dame' will remember that powerful and dramatic scene where Esmeralda saves Pierre Gringoire.) But Pinkerton records a case where the criminal refused to retain life in this way. The story of this intrepid refusal has been told in lines which bear quotation.

WILLSON'S STAR

Rises Today—A United Party Cheers the Hearts of Kentucky Republicans

Louisville Convention Dominated By Harmony—Willson and Cox the Standard Bearers

Hon. WILLIAM H. COX, Nominee for Lieutenant-Governor of Kentucky.

Today at Louisville the big convention of Kentucky Republicans will nominate by acclamation a candidate for Governor, Lieutenant Governor and the rest of the state ticket, and enunciate principles and adopt a platform that will mark a new era in the Commonwealth.

THE TICKET.

Governor—Augustus E. Willson, Louisville.

Lieutenant Governor—William H. Cox, Maysville.

Treasurer—Captain Ed. Farley, Paducah.

Auditor—Frank P. James, Harrodsburg.

Secretary of State—Dr. Ben L. Bruner, Louisville.

Attorney General—George W. Jolly, Owensboro.

Commissioner of Agriculture—N. Adams, Laurel county.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—Prof. J. G. Crabbe, Ashland.

W. Marshall Bullitt of Louisville will be Temporary Chairman and former Governor W. O. Bradley will be Permanent Chairman of the convention. Bradley will also nominate Willson.

A dispatch from Louisville says: Not only will Augustus E. Willson be the unanimous choice of the Kentucky Republicans for Governor, but the convention which will nominate him will be a Willson convention.

The nominee-to-be will practically dictate the entire ticket, and the platform will be as he desires it. Not that there is any dictation or any one-man convention. Just the opposite to that.

For the first time in years, the Republicans of Kentucky are united and harmonious. They realize that this is their one chance to win and restore the old Commonwealth to a state of freedom and fair counts. Affairs shaped themselves so that Willson was the logical candidate and in recognizing that fact the party leaders wisely left it all to him. Mr. Willson demonstrates his fitness for leadership by being magnanimous to those who were not with him at the start, and when the time for distributing honors of the Convention is at hand he will be found offering the chief honors to his "late" opponents.

WILLIAM O. BRADLEY

Former Governor, who will take a prominent part in the Republican Convention at Louisville today.

It is going to be a love-feast all around, and if there are any contests for place on the state ticket they will be of the friendliest sort. When the work is finished there will be lined up a solid party, ready to give battle to the so-called Democracy of this state, a Democracy that long ago lost its best element because of the corrupt caucus methods that began with the Goebel ring and was carried out by the Beckham non-descript. It will be a fighting Republican party this time.

Nothing different about Willson or his methods. Rather the people will see another campaign such as obtained in the two races made by W. O. Bradley, who is still the idol of the party. As a matter of fact, it is Bradley and his followers who are behind Willson. Republicans have always believed Bradley was elected in his first campaign, and they made it certain the next time. This year there will be a Bradley campaign, and if there is anything like a fair count, Willson will be Governor next year.

POINT-AU-VIEW!

A fine gaited combined saddle and harness horse, said by expert judges to be one of the coming young stars in Kentucky.

BEAU BRUMMEL!

A prize-winning, high-acting harness and road horse. This horse won more prizes in good company than any three-year-old ever shown since Harrison Child's day, defeating aged horses in harness and road rings.

Both of these horses will make the season at my place at the low price of $15 Living Colt.

POINT-AU-VIEW, sired by son of Chester Dare; dam by Post Boy 2:21 1/4.

BEAU BRUMMEL, sired by Needle Conner; dam, Aberdeen mare.

Everyone interested are invited to call and see these stallions. I will take great pleasure in having them shown any week day.

Also, two fine Shetland Pony Stallions at $10 living colts.

Mares will be kept at $5 per month, only to accommodate.

L. T. ANDERSON,

POINT-AU-VIEW STOCK FARM, MAYSVILLE, KY.

The transcontinental ride to test the endurance of various breeds of saddle horses is now definitely off.

Prentice Ashton, who was operated on at Ashland for appendicitis a couple of weeks ago, has recovered and has been discharged from the hospital.

Many Kentucky cities are sending literature to the Kentucky Building at the Jamestown Exposition to advertise their advantages. Maysville's Board of Trade and merchants should follow suit.

Mrs. Kate Woolsey, one of the victims of the C. and O. wreck near this city about a month ago, is now able to sit up. She is recovering slowly at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Trimble, at Cornington.

"Uncle" Israel Putnam Tisdale, colored, of Barren county, if he lives until this coming fall will celebrate his 117th birthday. He is well preserved in body and mind, and can relate most fluently many incidents which to the present generation are matters of history.

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity."

SOCIETY

One of the most delightful events of the season was the entertainment and dance given last evening by Miss Edna Webster Gilmore at her lovely home on East Second street in honor of her guests, Miss Doris Lorine Warnock of Augusta, and Miss Irene Buckner Blackerby, of Brooksville. Miss Tillie Parker assisted in the receiving line in her usual graceful manner, and the hostess and the guests of honor were never more charming. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns. Miss Lida Berry and Mr. Bailey rendered the sweetest of music. Ices, cakes and bonbons were served in dainty colors in keeping with the decorations.

Those present were: Misses Tillie Parker, Margaret Hunter, Marguerite Fitzgerald, Elizabeth F. Barbour, Nannie Case, Bessie Clarke, Ellen Kirk, Maude Berry, Nannie Thompson, Sallie M. Hall, Lucy Baldwin, Mary W. Power, Susie Armstrong of Flemingsburg, Louise Doniphan of Augusta, Mary Hall of Pittsburgh, Lile Collins of Norwood, O., Ellen and Agnes Shanklin of the county; Messrs. Houston Hall, Chancellor Parker, Ross Owens, James Sallee, J. Dudley Keith, James Threlkeld, Roy Hawes, John Fitzgerald, Dudley Quaintance, Alex. Parker, G. W. Owens, Linn Hoeflich, Harry Miles, Andrew Carr, Russell Hopper, Douglas Newell, Eddie Ball and Anstlin Rosenham Quigley.

Mrs. Amos Bayne, Miss Ella Mae Bayne, Isaac Lykins, wife and two children are with friends at Blueick Springs this week.

At Ringo's Mill, Fleming county, the two-year-old son of John McClean pulled a gun across the floor and it was discharged, the charge tearing away one of the child's feet.

RINGOLD LODGE, I. O. O. F.

"LIVES OF GREAT MEN ALL REMIND US?"
The story of how Marshall Field amassed his great fortune may be told in a few words. He had something to sell and advertised it.

The long continued cold weather has caused us to make a Reduction on All Our Clothing of 10 Per Cent.

This includes every garment in the house for men, young men, boys and children, all our celebrated Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes for men and young men. Our Ederheim, Stein & Co. for boys and children are marked in this reduction sale. If you have ever worn either of these makes you will know they have no superiors; if you have not, try them and then you will know.

We are young in the shoe business, and we are selling most of the real good ones, for the reason we have none but the best to offer.
